VISITING NURSE
TO BE EMPLOYED

Elkhart Anti-Tuberculosis Society Will Care For Patients. Italian Boy Gives Life to Save His Brother.

ELKHART, Ind., May 3.—The Elkhart County Anti-Tuberculosis society has decided to employ a visiting nurse to look after the county's two hundred odd tubercular patients. Dr. James A. Work, Jr., who has the matter in charge, said Sunday that one of the internes of an eastern municipal hospital would probably be chosen and would begin her duties in the early fall. It is also probable that a tubercular sanitarium will be erected during the summer.

Carl Amado, a 27-year-old Italian boy, sacrificed his life to care for his brother who is now dying at the home of his parents in the fatherland.

When Carl and Tony came to this country five years ago Tony had a bad cough but little attention was paid to it until it finally forced him to his bed. Carl nursed him back to partial health so that he was able to stand the journey back to the fatherland. Then Carl was seized with a bad cough which ended in his death from tuberculosis early this morning. A few minutes prior to Carl's demise a cablegram arrived from Italy saying that Tony was dying and urging Carl to take the first boat for the fatherland. Carl was an enterprising young foreigner and during his short residence here had mastered stenography and held a responsible position in one of the New York Central offices.

The contracting firm of G. W. Heinemann & Son of Indianapolis were the low bidders for the erection of the new municipal building and will probably be awarded the contract. Their bid was $66,252. The highest bid was submitted by Hellenberger & Co. of Chicago, $85,487.

A marriage license was issued in Chicago Friday to Miss Eva Turner of this city and Edward J. Gulick of Syracuse, N. Y. Miss Turner is a niece of Rev. A. A. Turner of south of the city. Mr. Gulick was formerly superintendent of the Amplex Motor Car Co. of Mishawaka.

SETS WATKINS' TRIAL

Newcastle's Mayor's Impeachment Case Continued to Saturday.

NEWCASTLE, Ind., May 3.—The preliminary hearing in impeachment proceedings filed by Arthur Hinchey, foreman of the Henry county grand jury against J. Lebb Watkins, mayor of Newcastle, which was to have been heard Saturday in circuit court before Judge Fred Gauze, had been continued until Saturday, May 8, by agreement. Mayor Watkins has employed Henry U. Johnson of Richmond, to assist A. D. Osborn and Brown and Morris, attorneys of Newcastle when the case is heard.

ROCKED THE BOAT;
HE IS ONLY VICTIM

Elkhart Negro Overturns Skiff But Companion Clings to Side of Boat.

Special to The News-Times.
ELKHART, Ind., May 3.—George Ivy, a colored porter employed at the Depot hotel, was drowned near this city at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after he had rocked the boat in which he and Frost Stillman, a bartender in a local saloon, were riding. Both men were thought to have been under the influence of liquor Ivy being intoxicated to the extent that he tipped the boat over. Stillman saved himself by righting the boat and clinging to the side until rescued by a farmer who was passing in a buggy. He claimed that the body of Ivy never came to the surface after the boat capsized. When found, two hours after the accident, the body of the negro was lying on the bottom of the river about 30 feet from the bank, near Mosquito Glen. Ivy was about 28 years old, had worked at the Depot hotel for one month.

INDIANA NEWSPAPER
WOMAN A SUICIDE

Takes Cyanide of Potassium in New York Hotel, Fearing Madness.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Miss Bessie Byfield, 41 years old, a newspaper woman who had been society editor on several papers of Indianapolis, Ind., where she lived, registered at the Park Avenue hotel on Saturday evening and after depositing $35 at the desk, was assigned to a room on the second floor. She went to her room early in the evening and was not seen again until shortly after noon yesterday, when Selma Anderson, a maid, opened the door with her pass key and saw her apparently asleep in bed, but Miss Byfield was dead.

Dr. A. A. Moore, the house physician, discovered that Miss Byfield had committed suicide with a cyanide of potassium, which she had taken in capsules. Several capsules and a four-ounce box of the poison lay on a chair beside the bed.

On a table in the room the police found two letters, directed to Mrs. E. C. Byfield and Miss Emma Byfield, 1729 N. Illinois st., Indianapolis, Ind. The letters were identical, except that one began "Dear Mother" and the other "Dear Sister." The letters read: "Do not censure me for this act. I fear I am losing my mind, and I think this is the kindest way out. I would not want to be a burden on the family, and you would not want to see me suffer. I hadn't the courage to do this at home. I hope this will be the means of bringing the family closer together."

"I am not afraid to die. I have done nothing that I think God will not forgive. Please do not mourn."

PAYS 50 CENTS REWARD

Wealthy Widow Parts With Money for $1,000 She Lost.

BRAZIL, Ind., May 3.—While shopping in this city Mrs. Neoma Deal, a wealthy widow of Farmersburg, Ind., mislaid her pocketbook containing $1,000 in bills, besides some checks and other papers. The pocketbook was found by Miss Myra Bogard, a clerk in the Lederer-Feibelman store, who found it lying on the counter. Mrs. Deal returned to the city yesterday to search for her pocketbook and calling at the Lederer store was presented with her missing money. As a reward she gave Miss Bogard 50 cents for her honesty. Miss Bogard refused to accept the money and Mrs. Deal went away leaving the munitent reward lying on the counter.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 3.—Several Purdue students discovered two charred corpses while poking among the smoldering ruins of an old corn crib destroyed by fire Saturday night. It is thought one of the men is Theodore Smith, formerly a professional aeronaut, who had been a cook in a restaurant.

'SAFETY FIRST' MAN
DRIVES ON TRACKS

O. M. Foster, Originator of Slogan, Loses Wife and Daughter When Train Strikes Auto Near Collinwood, Ohio.

Special to The News-Times.

ELKHART, Ind., May 3.—The irony of fate decreed that the lives of the family of O. M. Foster, formerly of Elkhart, who is the originator of the "Safety First" slogan and who has been one of the foremost promoters of safety devices for years, should be taken in a railroad accident near Collinwood, Ohio, at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning.

Foster himself was driving the automobile at the time of the accident in which his wife, Mrs. O. M. Foster, his 22-year-old daughter, who is a teacher in the Cleveland public schools, and a neighbor boy named Larich, 10 years old, were killed. Foster escaped with slight injuries.

The party was enjoying a ride about 10 miles east of Collinwood, near Willoughby, Ohio, Sunday afternoon. As the machine was crossing the Lake Shore tracks an accident to the engine caused the car to stop directly in front of the east bound express train number 31. The train struck the rear of the machine, killing three of the occupants almost instantly and throwing Mr. Foster out of the front seat into the road.

Foster held the position of master mechanic at Elkhart from 1910 until Feb. 12, 1913, when he was promoted to the position of master mechanic at Collinwood. He has been very prominently connected with movements tending towards making railroad travel more safe. Addresses on the subject have been delivered by him at various meetings, he being a well recognized authority on the question of safety in transportation.

FISHERMEN DROWNED

Two Lose Lives When Boat Capsizes in Lake Leelanau.

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., May 3.—Walter Anderson and Lawrence Smith of Leland, young fishermen, lost their lives yesterday in Lake Leelanau, near Freemen, when their boat upset upon a mile from the shore.

The boat was a small one with a detachable motor, and how the accident occurred is not known. The screams of the men were heard from the shore and efforts were made to save them, but before help arrived both sank.

The bodies were recovered last evening by a fishing boat owned by Warren Price of Leland. Both the young men were expert swimmers, but they were unable to keep afloat in the cold water.

The Wastefulness of "Price" Buying

To save money in purchasing is a duty everyone owes to his business. "Price" buying, however, does not always mean economy.

A few dollars "saved" in buying a typewriter may turn out to be many dollars wasted and make an expense of what should have been an investment.

The higher price paid for the
